MESSAGE

Dr. Thong Khon
Minister of Tourism

The Department of Statistics and Tourism Information of the Ministry of Tourism (MOT) annually compiles and publishes collected data on tourism statistics report. It consists of significant data on the status of international visitor arrivals and their average length of stay, domestic tourists, and tourism services.

Kingdom of Cambodia riches in a wide variety of cultural and natural resources. For cultural tourism there are thousands of millennium-built temples countrywide, grandeur history of great Khmer empire, architectures and arts can be explored and discovered in Siem Reap Angkor the home of World Heritage. Precisely, natural based tourism and ecotourism can be explored and experienced in southwest i.e. unspoiled white-sand beaches, untouched coral islands, the largest magnificent mangrove forest in Southeast Asia-and in northeast is the home to diverse exotic species of wildlife, flora and fauna, birds, national parks (picturesque mountains and forest) which are perfect ecotourism experiences. Above all, other unique tourism icon like freshwater Mekong River Dolphin found in the northeast of our land a home of people with genuine charm and smiling, courtesy and warm hospitality.

Furthermore, cultural and natural tourism is a dynamic source of the influx of visitors who intend to explore and appreciate cultural and natural heritages. As a result, in 2008 was witnessed 2.125 million international visitors, 5.5% increase compared over 2007. Because of the open sky policies produced convenience accesses of land, water and air which enable visitors to take their entry-visa on arrival.

I believe this 2008 Statistics Report will be a crucial tool for those who are conducting research on the tourism industry of Cambodia. Plus this statistic will act as fundamental indicator to broaden and strengthen tourism strategy in order to attract and retain a sustainable tourism growth to Cambodia, Kingdom of Wonder.

Best wishes,

Dr. Thong Khon
Minister of Tourism

Khmer History

The Mon-Khmer race developed slowly during the first six centuries of the Christian era. Under Indian influence, a powerful maritime empire called “Funan” ruled over all the shores of the Gulf of Siam. Within a short time, this new power known as Chenla absorbed the Funanese Kingdom. In the late 7th century, Chenla broke into two parts: land Chenla (to the north) and water Chenla (to the south along the Gulf of Thailand). Land Chenla was fairly stable during the 8th century, whereas water Chenla was beset by dynastic rivalries.

At the beginning of the 9th century, the kings set up their capital in the present province of Siem Reap. For nearly six centuries, they erected two hundred temples as well as their sanctuaries in the Angkorian area of some 400 square kilometers in the Siem Reap Province.

King Suryavarman II (1113-1150) built the temples such as Angkor Wat, Thommanon, Chau Say Tevoda, Preah Palilay, Preah Pithu, and Banteay Samrè.

Jayavarman VII (1181-1220) was best known for his huge building program. Firstly, he built Ta Prohm (1186) and Preah Khan (1191) to dedicate to his parents. Secondly, he erected Banteay Kdei, Srah Srang, the Terrace of the Leper King, the Terrace of the Elephants, Neak Pean, Ta Som, Ta Nei, and some others in other parts of the country. Thirdly, he founded his great capital, Angkor Thom. Finally, in the center, he built the Bayon with its two hundred stone faces.

The decline of the Angkor era began after the death of King Jayavarman VII in the early 13th century. Due to the Siamese invasion and the limitation of the irrigation system, Khmer power declined so much that the king was finally obliged to move to the vicinity of Phnom Penh in 1431. Resulting from a series of Siamese and Cham invasions, the country was put as a French protectorate in 1863.

After regaining Independence in 1953, the country has had several names:

1. The Kingdom of Cambodia (under the Reachia Niyum Regime from 1953 to 1970);
2. The Khmer Republic (under the Lon Nol Regime from 1970 to 1975);
3. Democratic Kampuchea (under the Pol Pot Genocidal Regime from 1975 to 1979);
4. The People’s Republic of Kampuchea (1979-1989);
5. The State of Cambodia (1989-1993);
6. The Kingdom of Cambodia (1993 until now).
