Message

Dear Readers,

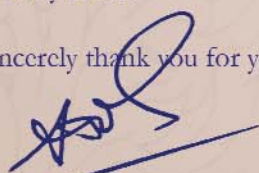

On behalf of the Ministry of Tourism of the Kingdom of Cambodia, I would like to pay my respect to all visitors, tourists, investors, and all relevant stakeholders who have come to the Kingdom of Cambodia, and I am also delighted to cordially welcome all perspective tourists, visitors as well as investors who intend to come to our beloved country.

I am proud to present that Cambodia's tourism sector has received the remarkable number of total international tourists which is 5.01 million for 2016. Within this number, our country has welcomed tourists' arrivals by two significant means of travelling, namely by air and land and waterways, which received 2.70 million and 2.31 million arrivals, respectively. Besides, internal tourism has made a noticeable achievement by earning 5.72 million in total, which divided into four main areas. Firstly, Phnom Penh and Surrounding have earned 2.81 million. Secondly, Siem Reap and Angkor have attracted 2.21 million. Thirdly, Coastal Areas have collected 0.64 million, and last of all, Eco-Tourism Areas have appealed 0.07 million for 2016, which are equivalent to 49.1%, 38.5%, 11.2%, 1.2%, correspondingly, compared to the total percentage of the tourists' arrivals.

Based on this steady increasing rate, we are optimistic that our vision to welcome 7 million international tourists' arrivals will be achieved ultimately by the year of 2020. Basically, in order to accomplish the above-pointed fast growing trend, the Royal Government of Cambodia has been trying from different facets and all strategies to promote effective development of tourism sector as Cultural and Natural Tourism throughout ensuring the general security, social stability as well as emphasizing on development of infrastructure and land, air and waterways connectivity and opening opportunities to all foreign investors who aim to invest in tourism facility and infrastructure both for now and the future, which are supporting Cambodia's tourism sector to its prosperity. Yet, this rapid increase of tourists is still hardly corresponded entirely to the soaring of the tourists to Cambodia, not to mention about Chinese tourists, which is a new target of Cambodia's tourism. In this regard, in order to respond to the above-mentioned rapid growing pace, the Royal Government of Cambodia has further been empowering the promotional campaign "Cambodia Kingdom of Wonder - Feel the Warmth" where all world heritages are exclusively assembled, namely Angkor Wat and Preah Vihear Temple, and at the same time, has supportively promoted and strongly encouraged the competitive movement of "Clean City, Clean Resort, Good Service, Best Hospitality", which is a potential tool for providing all visitors, tourists with excellent tourism service quality and making Cambodia become clean and green and the best class tourism destination.

Therefore, in order to be a part of this ultimate vision towards Ministry of Tourism's goal, the Tourism Statistics Department has thoroughly collected data and published annually of tourism statistical reports to provide pivotal and insightful information related to Cambodia's tourism industry, number of tourists' arrivals, tourism's service and other necessary information to the public. Along with the commitments of our research team, we have generated invaluable and useful statistics in order to provide fundamental indicators, as well as supportive materials, documentary to benefit private sectors and all relevant stakeholders both local and global investors to invest in our Cambodia. Furthermore, we wholeheartedly support the education in Cambodia by bestowing this annual report as document for researches, references, and study materials for all academic purposes both educators and learners. We strongly believe that this annually statistical report of 2016 will be a beneficially crucial instrument for all purposes as much as it may serve.

I sincerely thank you for your interest and wish you all contentment.

Dr. THONG Khon
Minister of Tourism

Khmer History

The Mon-Khmer race developed slowly during the first six centuries of the Christian era. Under Indian influence, a powerful maritime empire called “Funan” ruled over all the shores of the Gulf of Siam. Within a short time, this new power known as Chenla absorbed the Funanese Kingdom. In the late 7th century, Chenla broke into two parts: land Chenla (to the north) and water Chenla (to the south along the Gulf of Thailand). Land Chenla was fairly stable during the 8th century, whereas water Chenla was beset by dynastic rivalries.

At the beginning of the 9th century, the kings set up their capital in the present province of Siem Reap. For nearly six centuries, they erected two hundred temples as well as their sanctuaries in the Angkorian area of some 400 square kilometers in the Siem Reap Province.

King Suryavarman II (1113-1150) built the temples such as Angkor Wat, Thommanon, Chau Say Tevoda, Preah Palilay, Preah Pithu, and Banteay Samrè.

Jayavarman VII (1181-1220) was best known for his huge building program. Firstly, he built Ta Prohm (1186) and Preah Khan (1191) to dedicate to his parents. Secondly, he erected Banteay Kdei, Srah Srang, the Terrace of the Leper King, the Terrace of the Elephants, Neak Pean, Ta Som, Ta Nei, and some others in other parts of the country. Thirdly, he founded his great capital, Angkor Thom. Finally, in the center, he built the Bayon with its two hundred stone faces.

The decline of the Angkor era began after the death of King Jayavarman VII in the early 13th century. Due to the Siamese invasion and the limitation of the irrigation system, Khmer power declined so much that the king was finally obliged to move to the vicinity of Phnom Penh in 1431. Resulting from a series of Siamese and Cham invasions, the country was put as a French protectorate in 1863.

After regaining Independence in 1953, the country has had several names:

1. The Kingdom of Cambodia (under the Reachia Niyum Regime from 1953 to 1970);
2. The Khmer Republic (under the Lon Nol Regime from 1970 to 1975);
3. Democratic Kampuchea (under the Pol Pot Genocidal Regime from 1975 to 1979);
4. The People’s Republic of Kampuchea (1979-1989);
5. The State of Cambodia (1989-1993);
6. The Kingdom of Cambodia (1993 until now).
